"The world is a work in progress, and Sagamore Institute fuels that progress with ideas that move people and cities and nations forward." ~ Jay F. Hein, President

WISE COUNSEL FOR A WORLD IN PROGRESS

Liberia's President Johnson-Sirleaf visits Sagamore Institute headquarters and speaks on stability, governance, and poverty reduction.

OUR MISSION.

Sagamore Institute's mission is to provide independent and innovative research to a world in progress. We serve as the premiere think tank in applied research.

MAKING IDEAS WORK.

Through our applied research model, we take the power of ideas - combined with the power of effective action - to advance positive change in communities in Indiana and across the globe.

A UNIVERSITY IN YOUR HANDS.

Through our scholarship, we educate the policy makers making decisions, the practitioners making a difference, and the public trying to make sense of it all. We are your university outside the classroom.

GLOBAL MEETS LOCAL.

We are an international think tank that acts locally. Such activity ranges from improving education in Indianapolis to improving health care in Nairobi to advancing economic development in Seoul.

2005 DELIVERABLES/OUTPUTS.

- Published three books
- Presented at over 200 events
- Hosted and sponsored monthly policy events at Indianapolis headquarters
- Published over 200 essays in over 30 publications

Former Congressman Lee Hamilton & IN's Secretary of State Todd Rokita join Sagamore Institute's President Jay Hein in a dialogue on electoral reform.

THE IDEAS BUSINESS.

We create ideas and travel downstream to try them out. This is our action. We also take lessons learned from best practices and travel upstream to change the way laws govern education, healthcare, foreign policy, and much more. This is our influence.

OUR INTERESTS.

Through a distributed network of dozens of scholars and researchers, we cover four main program areas as listed below.

HEARTLAND - Education reform, urban planning, Central Indiana Healthy Marriage Initiative, Community Healthcare Reform, Ideas in Indiana series

CIVIL SOCIETY - Faith and Service Technical Education Network (FASTEN), Conversations on Philanthropy book series, Partners in Transformation awards program

NATIONAL POLICY - Department of Justice, Department of Health and Human Services, State-Based Welfare Reform, Workforce Development

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS - Global Trade, Immigration, South Korean Visiting Fellow Program, Foreign Aid
